

The Matthew 633
Workplace invites you to 31 Days of Devotional Reflection for Kingdom Workers

Note from Barb:

I pray this resource blesses you and leads you into a deeper relationship with the Father. Never forget, you work for Him and are privileged to represent His Kingdom.

© 2026 Barb Palmer | M633 Workplace, Inc.

This resource is provided for personal use. If you'd like to share it, please direct others to www.m633workplace.org to download their own copy.

*And Jesus came and spoke to them, saying,
“All authority has been given to Me in heaven and on earth.”
Matthew 28:18*

The world teaches you that authority comes from position, power, or influence. Yet Jesus declares that all authority in heaven and on earth belongs to Him. His authority extends beyond the visible world into the eternal spiritual realm that governs it. Jesus demonstrated this authority throughout His ministry. He healed the sick, delivered the oppressed, provided for those in need, and ultimately conquered death itself. These actions revealed that His Kingdom operates above the limits of the natural world. When you follow Christ, you step under the rule of the true King. Your life is no longer governed by fear or uncertainty but by the authority of the One who reigns over all creation.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: Jesus, You possess all authority in heaven and on earth, and I live under Your rule.

Jesus answered, “My kingdom is not of this world. If My kingdom were of this world, My servants would fight, so that I should not be delivered to the Jews; but now My kingdom is not from here.”
John 18:36-37

The kingdoms of this world are built on visible power—political authority, economic strength, and human influence. Yet Jesus made it clear that His Kingdom operates on an entirely different foundation. Standing before Pilate, He declared that His Kingdom is not of this world. It does not depend on earthly systems or human control. It belongs to the eternal realm that cannot be shaken. This truth calls you to live differently. Faith requires trusting what cannot always be seen. The structures of this world will eventually pass away, but the Kingdom of God will remain forever. As you follow the true King, your life begins to reflect the priorities of a Kingdom that endures beyond time.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: Jesus, You are the true King, and Your kingdom is not of this world.

He will be great, and will be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God will give Him the throne of His father David. And He will reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of His kingdom there will be no end.
Luke 1:32-33

Many leaders in the world rise to power for a season and then disappear. Their influence fades, and their authority eventually ends. The Kingdom of Jesus is completely different. Scripture declares that His reign will never end. He rules with perfect wisdom, justice, and compassion. There is no corruption in His government and no limit to His care for those who belong to Him. Understanding this truth changes how you see your life. You are not serving a temporary ruler or placing your trust in a fragile system. You belong to a Kingdom led by a perfect King whose authority continues forever. Living under His rule brings confidence, security, and purpose.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: King Jesus reigns forever, and I belong to a Kingdom that has no end.

Another parable He put forth to them, saying: "The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field, which indeed is the least of all the seeds; but when it is grown it is greater than the herbs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and nest in its branches."

Matthew 13:31-32

The Kingdom of God often begins in ways that appear small and insignificant. Jesus compared it to a mustard seed, one of the smallest seeds planted in a garden. Yet over time it grows into something large and influential. This picture reveals how God's government expands throughout the earth. His Kingdom spreads through faithful obedience, transformed lives, and the quiet influence of those who follow the King. As a citizen of this Kingdom, you participate in that growth. Each act of obedience, each expression of Christlike character, and each moment of faithful witness contributes to the increase of His rule. The Kingdom grows steadily according to God's purpose, and you are part of that expansion.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/____

DECLARE THIS: The kingdom of God grows and expands according to God's purpose.

*Another parable He spoke to them:
 “The kingdom of heaven is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal till it was all leavened.”
 Matthew 13:33*

Jesus described the Kingdom as yeast hidden within dough. Though small and unseen at first, its influence spreads until the entire batch is transformed. This illustration reveals how the Kingdom of God works in the world. Its power does not rely on force or domination. Instead, it spreads quietly through the presence and influence of those who belong to Christ. Love, truth, and righteousness begin to reshape environments as Kingdom citizens live according to the character of the King. Even ordinary places—homes, communities, and workplaces—can be changed by that influence. You are invited to participate in this work. As you live faithfully, the transforming power of God’s Kingdom moves through your life into the world around you.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I declare that the kingdom of heaven spreads and transforms everything it touches.

*Now when He was asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come, He answered them and said,
“The kingdom of God does not come with observation; nor will they say, ‘See here!’ or ‘See there!’
For indeed, the kingdom of God is within you.”
Luke 17:20-21*

Many people expect God’s Kingdom to appear as a visible political system or dramatic earthly structure. Jesus explained that the Kingdom comes differently than expected. He said the Kingdom of God is within you. When you place your trust in Christ, His rule begins in your heart. The presence of the King lives within you, shaping your thoughts, decisions, and actions. This inner reality becomes visible as your life reflects His character. Wherever you go, the influence of God’s Kingdom goes with you. Your workplace, your conversations, and your daily choices become opportunities to carry His light into places that may not yet recognize Him. The Kingdom advances as His citizens live under His rule.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I carry the eternal Kingdom of God in me wherever I go.

*Likewise He also took the cup after supper, saying,
“This cup is the new covenant in My blood, which is shed for you.”
Luke 22:20*

Every kingdom operates according to a covenant that defines its authority and relationship with its people. Jesus established the covenant of His Kingdom through His own blood. At the Last Supper, He described the cup as the new covenant in His blood. This covenant secures forgiveness, reconciliation with God, and access to the life of the Kingdom. Unlike earthly agreements that depend on human faithfulness, this covenant rests on the finished work of Christ. His sacrifice established the foundation for your relationship with the King. Through this covenant, you live under the protection, authority, and promises of God’s Kingdom.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: The Kingdom of God operates under the Constitution paid for by the blood of Jesus Christ.

“For this is My blood of the new covenant, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.”
Matthew 26:28

Jesus described His blood as the blood of the covenant poured out for the forgiveness of sins. Through His sacrifice, a new relationship between God and His people was established. This covenant removes the barrier that once separated humanity from the Father. Forgiveness, mercy, and restoration now flow through the work of Christ. Because of this covenant, you stand before God not as a stranger but as someone welcomed into His Kingdom. Your identity is no longer defined by past failures or limitations. The blood of Jesus secures your place within the Kingdom and allows you to walk in freedom under the authority of the King.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: Through the blood of Jesus, I stand in the covenant of the Kingdom of God.

But now He has obtained a more excellent ministry, inasmuch as He is also Mediator of a better covenant, which was established on better promises.
Hebrews 8:6

Scripture describes the covenant of Christ as a better covenant built on better promises. Unlike the systems of the world that depend on human effort and performance, this covenant is founded on God’s grace. Through Jesus, you receive forgiveness, transformation, and access to the presence of God. Justice and mercy meet perfectly within this covenant. What the law revealed but could not complete, Christ fulfilled. Living under this covenant invites you into a life shaped by love, faith, and obedience. The King provides both the promise and the power to live according to His will. This is the foundation of life within the Kingdom.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I live under the better covenant of Jesus Christ.

Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God.
Matthew 5:9

The world often praises those who keep conflict quiet, avoid tension, tolerate wrongdoing, and maintain surface harmony—peace at any price. That approach may keep the peace temporarily, but it rarely produces true peace. Jesus calls you to something different. A peacemaker does not ignore evil or pretend that problems do not exist. A peacemaker carries the presence of the Prince of Peace into difficult situations. When Christ rules your heart, His peace becomes visible through your words, your actions, and your responses. People will notice a calm strength that does not come from personality or temperament. It comes from belonging to God. As you live this way, others encounter the reality of Christ through the peace that flows from your life.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I live as a peacemaker and a son of God.

Do not fear, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.
Luke 12:32

Many people, including professing believers, spend their lives pursuing security through career success, financial stability, and personal achievement. Yet Jesus invites you to become part of something far greater. Your Father has given you an entire Kingdom! This is not a gift of earthly comfort or temporary success. It is an eternal Kingdom that cannot be shaken or diminished. When you receive this truth, your identity begins to change. You no longer live as someone striving to earn acceptance or security. Instead, you grow into the character of Christ, learning to live as a citizen of the eternal Kingdom your Father has already granted to you. The more you believe this promise, the more confidently you walk in the life God has prepared for you.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: My heavenly Father has given me a place in His kingdom.

But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become children of God, to those who believe in His name.
John 1:12

Citizenship in God’s Kingdom is not something you achieve through effort or religious performance. It is a legal right granted through faith in Christ. When you believe in Him, you are given the right to become a child of God. This means your relationship with the Father is not distant or uncertain. You are welcomed into His family and share in the inheritance of His Kingdom. Your identity changes completely. You are no longer defined by the systems of the world or by past circumstances. You belong to God. From this position as His child, you learn to live under His authority, trusting His guidance and growing into the likeness of Christ as a true citizen of His Kingdom.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I believe in Christ and know I am a child of God and a citizen of His kingdom.

Jesus said to him, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment.”
Matthew 22: 37-38

Every kingdom operates according to laws that reflect the character of its ruler. In God’s Kingdom, the first and greatest command is simple and profound: love the Lord your God with all your heart, soul, and mind. This command flows from reverence. The fear of the Lord is not terror but deep awe. It is the realization that God is greater, wiser, and more wonderful than anything you will ever face. As you grow in knowing Him, your love for Him naturally increases. Obedience stops feeling like duty and begins to feel like devotion. Your life becomes ordered around what matters most—loving God above every other influence in the world.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: Love for God governs my life in the Kingdom and in this world.

*And the second is like it: “You shall love your neighbor as yourself.”
On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.
Matthew 22:39-40*

God’s Kingdom operates through a law that transforms relationships: love your neighbor as yourself. This instruction assumes something important—you must first receive the grace God extends to you. When you accept His forgiveness and mercy, your heart becomes capable of extending that same grace to others. If you attempt to love others without receiving God’s love yourself, the effort becomes strained and incomplete. But when Christ’s love fills your heart, generosity and compassion begin to flow outward. In the workplace and in daily life, your treatment of others becomes a visible expression of the Kingdom. The way you extend respect, patience, and kindness reflects the love you have first received from God.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: Love for others guides my conduct in the Kingdom and the workplace.

Therefore, whatever you want men to do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.
Matthew 7:12

The world often encourages people to treat others according to convenience, advantage, or personal preference. Jesus introduces a principle that reshapes human relationships. Treat others the way you would want to be treated. This simple instruction reflects a deeper spiritual law that operates within God’s Kingdom. The attitudes and actions you release toward others eventually shape the environment around your life. Grace produces grace. Kindness encourages kindness. Respect invites respect. As you practice the Golden Rule, you align your behavior with the character of Christ. Your conduct begins to influence the atmosphere around you, whether at work, at home, or among strangers. Living this way reflects the justice and mercy that govern God’s Kingdom.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I treat others with the same grace I desire to receive.

*Therefore, whoever hears these sayings of Mine, and does them,
I will liken him to a wise man who built his house on the rock.*
Matthew 7:24

Jesus describes a life that remains steady even when the world around it becomes unstable. The difference is not merely hearing His words but putting them into practice. The Kingdom lifestyle requires obedience. Knowledge alone cannot build a secure life. Your daily choices—how you respond, how you treat others, how you trust God—form the foundation beneath you. When you act on what Jesus teaches, your life becomes anchored in truth that cannot easily be shaken. Storms will still come. Challenges will still arise. Yet the foundation of obedience keeps your life secure. Building your life on the words of Christ produces a stability that the world’s systems cannot provide.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I build my life on the words of Jesus.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven.
Matthew 5:16

People often learn about faith not through sermons but through observation. Your daily conduct becomes a visible testimony of the Kingdom you belong to. When Christ shapes your attitudes and actions, others will notice something different. They encounter patience instead of frustration, kindness instead of indifference, and integrity instead of compromise. Your life quietly reflects the character of the King you serve. This influence does not require attention or recognition. It simply flows from living in obedience to Christ. As your words and actions align with His character, your life becomes a light that points others toward God and reveals the beauty of His Kingdom.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: My life reflects the character of Christ's Kingdom.

For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.
Matthew 6:21

Your heart always moves toward what you value most. Jesus explains that your treasures reveal the true direction of your life. The world encourages you to pursue temporary rewards—status, possessions, recognition, and comfort. These pursuits promise fulfillment but rarely deliver lasting satisfaction. The Kingdom invites you to invest in what has eternal value. Relationships, Christlike character, acts of love, and faithful obedience carry significance beyond this life. When your heart becomes anchored in these values, your priorities begin to shift. Decisions are no longer driven by short-term gain but by long-term purpose. Living with an eternal perspective shapes your daily choices and aligns your life with the priorities of God’s Kingdom.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: My heart is anchored in the values of the Kingdom.

*For He shall give His angels charge over you,
To keep you in all your ways.
In their hands they shall bear you up, lest you dash your foot against a stone.*
Psalms 91:11-12 NKJV

Following God does not guarantee a life without difficulty. It does guarantee a life without defeat. At times you may face challenges, opposition, or situations that feel like fierce battles. Yet Psalm 91 reveals that you do not fight alone in those moments. God gives His angels charge concerning those who walk in His ways. Their assignment is to guard and assist according to His purposes. Sometimes that protection keeps you away from danger. At other times it preserves you while you walk through difficult circumstances. The presence of heaven’s protection does not eliminate every challenge, but it assures you that God’s care surrounds you continually. You can move forward in obedience, trusting that His unseen protection accompanies you wherever He leads.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I am guarded by an angel army and kept in all my ways.

(About angels) Are they not all ministering spirits sent forth to minister for those who will inherit salvation?
Hebrews 1:14 NKJV

The world often assumes that the visible realm is all that exists. Scripture reveals a far larger reality. Angels are ministering spirits sent by God to serve those who inherit salvation. They operate quietly within God’s purposes, carrying out assignments that support His Kingdom. This truth reminds you that spiritual support surrounds your life. When you follow the Lord’s direction, heaven’s resources stand with you even when circumstances appear overwhelming. Your confidence does not rest in personal strength or favorable conditions. It rests in the faithfulness of the God who governs both the seen and unseen realms. As you trust Him, you can move forward knowing that His protection and provision are always at work.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: The heavenly host guard God’s Kingdom and His citizens.

Bless the LORD, you His angels, Who excel in strength, who do His word, Heeding the voice of His word.
Psalm 103: 20

The world teaches you to rely on visible resources—your skills, your contacts, your ability to solve problems. But the Kingdom of God operates through a different system. Heaven is not passive while you carry out the King’s assignments. Psalm 103 reveals that God’s angels excel in strength and carry out His commands as they heed His word. When you face something beyond your ability, your first response is not panic or striving. Your response is obedience to the Lord and confidence in His word. As you declare what God has spoken and move forward in faith, heaven’s resources align with His purposes. You are never working alone in the Kingdom.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: As I declare God’s Word, His heavenly hosts move to enforce it.

But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you.
Matthew 6:33

The systems of the world teach you to chase security through income, status, and control. In that system, provision depends on your position, your employer, or your client list. Jesus reveals a completely different economy. When you seek the Kingdom of God first—placing His rule, His purposes, and His righteousness above everything else— “these things” are added to you. Food, clothing, and the necessities of life are not uncertain rewards; they are promises from the King. This is not theoretical teaching. It is practical Kingdom reality. Your responsibility is to pursue the King and His ways. Provision flows from Him, not from the structures of the world.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/____

DECLARE THIS: As I seek the Kingdom first, the King provides everything I need.

*Consider the ravens, for they neither sow nor reap, which have neither storehouse nor barn; and God feeds them.
Of how much more value are you than the birds?*
Luke 12:24

The world trains you to believe that provision comes from employment, contracts, or financial opportunity. But the Kingdom of God teaches you to see your Father as your true provider. Jesus points to the ravens. They neither plant nor harvest, yet God feeds them. If the Father faithfully sustains the smallest parts of His creation, you can trust that He will care for you as well. Your income may come through a job, a client, or a new opportunity, but those are channels—not the source. Your source is the Father who governs His Kingdom. As you trust Him and walk in obedience, you learn to live with confidence rather than fear.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: My Father provides for me because I belong to His Kingdom.

Give, and it will be given to you: good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over will be put into your bosom. For with the same measure that you use, it will be measured back to you.
1 Peter 5:7 (NLT)

The world’s economy is driven by fear—fear of not having enough, fear of losing position, fear of an uncertain future. That fear pushes people to hold tightly to their resources and guard themselves against loss. The Kingdom economy works differently. God invites you to place your concerns into His hands because He genuinely cares for you. When you trust the Father with your needs, your heart becomes free from the pressure to control outcomes. From that place of trust, generosity becomes possible. You can give your time, your abilities, and your resources without fear. In the Kingdom, abundance is not measured by how much you accumulate, but by the freedom you have to live open-handed before God and others.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I live in the generosity and abundance of the Kingdom economy.

Yet it shall not be so among you; but whoever desires to become great among you, let him be your servant. And whoever desires to be first among you, let him be your slave.

Matthew 20:26–27

In the world's system, greatness is measured by authority, status, and influence over others. Advancement usually comes by climbing higher than those around you. Jesus teaches you that the Kingdom operates in the opposite direction. True greatness is expressed through service. The one who willingly serves others demonstrates the character of the King Himself. Choosing this path may appear weak to the world. Serving others requires humility and trust that God sees what others overlook. Yet this posture reflects deep strength because it relies on Christ working through you. As you place yourself in the role of a servant, you participate in the life of the Kingdom where honor flows from obedience rather than ambition.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: In the Kingdom of God, greatness is expressed through humble service.

A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; as I have loved you, that you also love one another. By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another.

John 13:34–35

The world often treats love as an emotion or a private feeling. In the Kingdom of God, love is a defining mark of identity and a visible expression of obedience. Jesus gives you a clear instruction: love others just as He has loved you. This command moves beyond preference, personality, or convenience. It calls you to treat people with patience, kindness, and mercy even when it costs something. This kind of love reveals the reality of Christ within you. It is not merely a personal virtue; it is evidence that you belong to the King. As you practice love in daily interactions—at work, at home, and among strangers—you demonstrate the character of the Kingdom in a world that often struggles to recognize it.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: My love for others identifies me as a disciple of Christ.

*But he who is greatest among you shall be your servant.
And whoever exalts himself will be humbled,
and he who humbles himself will be exalted.*

Matthew 23:11–12

The world encourages you to pursue recognition, promotion, and personal advancement. Success is often defined by how high you rise and how many people serve you. Jesus describes a different path for those who belong to His Kingdom. The greatest among you becomes the one who serves. Humility positions your life under God's authority rather than placing yourself at the center. This posture requires trust. When you release the drive to promote yourself, you allow God to determine your place and influence. The King sees what is done in quiet obedience and faithful service. Honor in the Kingdom is not seized or demanded. It is given by God to those who walk humbly before Him.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I walk in humility, knowing that honor in the Kingdom comes from God.

*Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find;
knock, and it will be opened to you.*
Matthew 7:7

Citizens of the Kingdom are not distant from the King. You have been invited into a relationship where you can approach the Father with confidence. Jesus encourages you to ask, seek, and knock. These actions reflect a heart that trusts God’s willingness to respond. As you grow in the character of Christ, your desires begin to align with the Father’s purposes. This relationship opens access to guidance, wisdom, and provision that the world cannot manufacture. The privilege of the Kingdom is not merely receiving answers; it is living in ongoing fellowship with the Father. When you seek Him sincerely, you discover that the doors of the Kingdom are open to those who come with trust.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: As His heir and citizen of the Kingdom, I have access to the Father and all His provision.

Do not fear, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.
Luke 12:32

Many people quietly believe that God is distant or reluctant to bless. Jesus corrects that misunderstanding with a simple assurance: the Father delights to give His Kingdom to His people. Your relationship with God is not built on fear but on His generosity. He invites you into a life where His rule brings peace, direction, and provision. This promise reminds you that God's intentions toward you are good. He welcomes you into His Kingdom not as a reluctant subject but as a cherished member of His household. As you walk in trust and obedience, you begin to recognize the goodness of the Father who delights in sharing His Kingdom life with you.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: My Father delights to give His Kingdom inheritance to His people.

*Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you;
not as the world gives do I give to you.
Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.*
John 14:27

The world offers peace through control—stable circumstances, secure finances, and predictable outcomes. Yet those forms of peace are fragile and easily shaken. Jesus offers you a different kind of peace. His peace does not depend on external conditions. It flows from His victory over the world and His presence within you. You are invited to guard your heart against fear and anxiety. When troubling situations arise, you choose to trust the One who has already overcome every power that threatens your security. As a citizen of God’s Kingdom, you carry a peace that the world cannot manufacture or take away.

REFLECTIONS: Today’s Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: The peace of Christ is mine as a citizen of His Kingdom.

*Now then, we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God were pleading through us: we implore
you on Christ's behalf, be reconciled to God.*
2 Corinthians 5:20 NKJV

The Kingdom of God does not end with personal blessing. Citizens of the Kingdom are sent into the world as representatives of the King. Scripture describes you as an ambassador for Christ. An ambassador speaks and acts on behalf of the government that sent him. In the same way, your life reflects the authority and character of the Kingdom you belong to. This representation is not limited to words. Your integrity, your excellence, your love for others, and your faithfulness in daily work reveal the nature of the King. When you live under Christ's authority, your actions quietly preach the gospel. People encounter the reality of God's Kingdom through the way you live.

REFLECTIONS: Today's Date: __/__/__

DECLARE THIS: I am an ambassador for Christ, representing His Kingdom to the world.